PFLAG is there when you think no one else is...

PFLAG Canada Durham Region wants you to know we are here for you and your clients

We are expanding our reach to support Parents of Gender Creative Children

We are reaching out to parents/family members/friends of young gender creative children between the ages of 3 – 10, as well as, eventually, the children themselves.

From one of our families

For the past 6 months I have been attending coffee nights put on through PFLAG Durham Region. The meetings have become a staple of support for me – the individuals that attend these meetings are there to help anyone who may need it, and many of us attend because we feel we need just that – support.

For me, this has been integral. With a very young gender-variant child, I had no idea where to turn or what to do. There are not many resources out there for parents with regards to young children. I felt very much alone and confused. On the suggestion of a friend, PFLAG Durham Region was the first place I reached out to – and the group has been phenomenal. I was provided with resources, as well as the opportunity to meet others on a similar journey, seeking similar guidance. Mother of a 4 year old learning to love life whether my child is male or female or somewhere under the rainbow
